

World Ear Project: Series 2, April 22, 1985, 1 of 2

Image not found or type unknown

Identifier

WEP.1985.04.22.A

Description

This program is the third in a new series of ambient field recordings from around the world. The original World Ear Project series was broadcast on KPFA in the early 1970s, as the portable cassette recorder first made such an ambitious undertaking economically affordable. In this, the second series, the idea of collecting sounds from unique and unusual environments from all over the world remains the same, however the advances in field recording technologies, including digital recording, make for a much higher quality experience. In this program Charles Amirkhanian, and Richard Friedman, present tapes recorded in San Francisco, and other locations.

Musical Selections

[thunderstorm, San Francisco, California, Sept. 19, 1984] / Paul Cardier (sp?) -- [desert wilderness] / John Sunier -- [Oak woodland] / John Sunier -- [Chinese New Years Parade, San Francisco, California, 1985] / Melody Walker -- [Lefty O'Doul Bridge, San Francisco, California] / Ty Allison -- [windchime garden in San Francisco, California] / Melanie Walker -- [raindrops falling?]

Artists

Friedman, Richard (features)
Amirkhanian, Charles (features)
Sunier, John (features)
Walker, Melanie (features)
Allison, Ty (features)