

World Ear Project: People Milling Around in a Large Room

Identifier

WEP.XXXX.XX.XX.01

Description

An ambient field recording of what sounds like people in a large room, perhaps during an intermission of a concert or class. There is little in the way of recognizable speech and instead this recording is mostly filled with the sound of people's shuffling feet, the possible scraping of chairs against the floor, and other nondescript sounds.
